

PROFESSIONAL RESUME

GIUSEPPE BAVUSO (1959) is an architect and a designer. The rigor of his minimalist sign merges in his projects with a strong focus on technical research and with great expertise in the use of innovative materials. He lives and works in Seregno, near Milan, Italy. As a young designer, he worked for an international company, specializing in the concept and realization of work in various fields ranging from architecture to interiors of contract spaces as well as trains and wagons-lit. He opens his product design studio in 1986 and since then he works as a designer and a consultant for clients active in the furniture and in the bio-medical sectors.

In 1990, he obtains the first prize in the International Design Award competition in Köln, Germany, with his PickUp upholstered sofa for Brunati.

In 1994, his sliding doors system Siparium is awarded the first prize of the Young & Design award in Milan.

In 2000, he is awarded the first prize of “KBB Review New Year’s Honor-List For 2000” with his bookshelf and wardrobe system Zenit for Rimadesio.

In 2005 he is selected by the Design Index for the Compasso d’Oro award upon presentation of his Graphis system for Rimadesio while in 2008 his interior door Vela (Rimadesio) is selected for the 21st edition of the Compasso d’Oro.

He works for several furniture companies in Italy and abroad as designer and art director, dealing with product development from the concept phase throughout to production and visual communications. He also merges his expertise in design, communication and marketing in his work as a booth designer and in the development of exhibition spaces and showrooms.

Throughout his professional career, he has worked for:

A B C LIFE – ACAM – ALIVAR – BERNINI – BRUNATI –
DADA – MINOTTI – KOH-I-NOOR – POLIFORM –
RIMADESIO